

HURLOCK AT BOOKMAKER WHO WELCHED ON HIS BETS

SUBWAY CAVES IN, POLICE STOP CARS

Tied Up Fulton Street Lines in Brooklyn for a Short Time.

FEARED AN ACCIDENT. Cave-In in the Subway Excavation Caused Alarm in Official Circles.

After the Fulton street elevated trains and the six or eight lines of surface cars had been stopped by the police this afternoon because of a cave-in in the subway excavation in Fulton street, between Duffield and Gold streets, east of the city hall, it was not known at first whether the elevated structure had been weakened, or if the supports holding up the surface tracks had been impaired, but it was deemed advisable to have engineers pass by the condition of the roadway before further traffic was permitted.

When the subway was first started it was planned to build only two tracks. When the space for the two tracks was almost finished it was decided to make the road have four tracks and to do that it was necessary to excavate within a few feet of the building line.

To this end about half of the width of the sidewalk has been removed on both sides of the street and a temporary sidewalk of boards has been built over the excavated part. The "L" structure was cramped up on high timbers, the foundations having been removed to permit the excavations. Sixty feet of the sidewalk gave way this afternoon, nearly burying several laborers at work in the subway. No pedestrians were on the walk when it gave way. The police immediately stretched ropes and kept the people away from that part of the street.

As the temporary structure supporting both the surface lines and the elevated road, and also the street surface might have been undermined or weakened by the cave-in all trains were stopped.

MRS. SAGE IN IGNORANCE OF HUSBAND'S WILL

Does Not Know Its Contents, She Tells Pastor.

The funeral services of Russell Sage at Par Rockaway this afternoon drew a great crowd to the Presbyterian Church. Although the crowd was composed largely of summer residents and persons who were at the seashore for a day of pleasure, it was quiet and respectful.

An efficient police guard prevented undue crushing about the door of the church as the widow and the late mourners followed the coffin in and out of the edifice.

Just before the funeral Mrs. Sage told the Rev. R. G. Leitch, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Par Rockaway, that she had not the slightest knowledge of the contents of the will of the late Mr. Sage. She said she had never mentioned between them, she said.

FIVE ARRESTS FOR TRANSFER STAMP FRAUDS

Four very young men, Wall street clerks, and one man of middle age, a retired fireman, were locked up in Police Headquarters this afternoon charged with being members of a crowd of conniving clerks in Wall street brokers' offices and banks who have defrauded the State out of about $200,000 in the past year by dealing in fraudulent mortgage, transfer and stock transfer stamps. The names of the prisoners are Luke McSherry, retired fireman, of No. 24 East One Hundred and Twenty-third street, Manhattan; Frederick Thompson, twenty-three, of No. 66 Pacific street; C. M. Lawrence, twenty-one, of No. 15 Henry street; William O'Reilly, twenty-three, of No. 25 De Graaf street, and Patrick King, sixteen, of No. 12 Nevins street, Brooklyn.

The State Comptroller became aware months ago that there was a serious discrepancy between the returns for stamps for mortgage and stock transfers and the number of transactions reported. On the Stock Exchange alone the daily difference between the tax that should accrue to the State from the shares dealt in and the returns really made from sales was amazing. Representatives of the Comptroller's office and the Attorney-General laid the matter before District Attorney Jerome, who placed it in the hands of his assistant, Mr. M. J. McQuinn.

Inspector McQuinn was informed of the matter on June 20, and placed Detective Sergeants Sheehan, Dwyer, Schoenfeld, Foy and Young on the case. They went to the Wall street district and got busy.

It did not take them long to discover that certain clerks and others were taking stamps that had been used, washing and otherwise renovating them and selling them over at reduced rates. The practice, according to the detective, was widespread, and the arrests of today are simply the opening wedges into the heart of the conspiracy.

Magistrate Mayo issued warrants calling for the persons under accusation yesterday, and they were served after the close of the market this afternoon. Some of the stamps were found on young Lawrence and one of the other prisoners. They will be arraigned in Centre Street Police Court tomorrow morning.

MINTBERIA, 5 TO 1, BEATS UMBRELLA IN THE SEVENTH

Ridden by an Apprentice Madden's Two-Year-Old Scores.

THE GOOD THINGS WIN.

Clovercrest, Yoric and Samson All Come to Life Suddenly.

BRIGHTON RESULTS.

FIRST RACE—Clovercrest (16 to 5 and 6 to 5) 1, Firebrand (6 to 1 for place) 2, Miss Ogden 3.

SECOND RACE—Kentucky Beau (13 to 5 and even) 1, Penarris (2 to 1 for place) 2, Tony Bonero 3.

THIRD RACE—Belle of Pequest (3 to 5 and 1 to 5) 1, Water Tank (3 to 5 for place) 2, Lonehand 3.

FOURTH RACE—Samson (14 to 5 and 3 to 5) 1, Albert F. (1 to 2 for place) 2, Flinnap 3.

FIFTH RACE—Rubric (4 to 1 and 8 to 5) 1, Bobbie Kean (6 to 5 for place) 2, Geranium 3.

SIXTH RACE—Yoric (5 to 1 and 2 to 1) 1, Somnus (7 to 10 for place) 2, Clements 3.

SEVENTH RACE—Mintberia (4 to 1 and 8 to 5) 1, Umbrella (5 to 1 for place) 2, Flowaway 3.

BY FRANK W. THORP.

(Special to The Evening World.) BRIGHTON BEACH RACE TRACK, July 24.—Samson won the Juvenile Stakes at Brighton this afternoon, making the running from end to end. Albert F. and Kuroki laid behind him to the stretch, where Kuroki quit. Samson showed a reversal of form. In his last race he had no speed. Kuroki was a false favorite, his legs being very bad, and they burned him at the end of a mile. Albert F. was well backed, but could never reach Samson. Flinnap, a 40 to 1 shot, was a child.

Clover Crest Brought Money Home.

In the opening dash every one seemed headed up with the good thing. Clover Crest, a maiden which had not started this year, Clover Crest came home with the money, running the six furlongs in 1:12.4.5. Firebrand beat Miss Ogden for the place. There was another good thing in this race in Music Box, but she was practically left at the post. She was backed from 100 to 1 to 15 to 1.

The crowd went looking for good things after Clover Crest's win and they found them in Vox Populi, starting for the first time in the Keene colors. They studied their toes this time, for Vox Populi ran a very bad race. Kentucky Beau spreaded his field and soon came up from Penarris, which ran in the colors of Frank O'Neill to-day. Arcite had no speed.

Belle of Pequest easily won the third race from Water Tank and Lone Hand. She was a hot favorite.

In the opening race Firebrand and Clover Crest raced together, followed by Music Box, Oydna and Blue Pigeon. In the stretch Clover Crest went to the front and won easily by a length from Music Box.

Music Box backed down from 100 to 1 to 15 to 1.

Good Thing Ran Bad Race.

Vox Populi, in the Keene colors, was a good thing in the second race, but he failed to show any speed and ran a bad race. Kentucky Beau went to the front and won after the start. He beat all the runners and won by five lengths from Penarris, which was second all day bending Tony Bonero three lengths for the place.

ARREST GIANTS' PITCHER IN GAME

MANIAC FIGHTS ON STREET CAR

Charles J. Dillon, who lives at the Holland House, and is the proprietor of the Sea Cliff Inn, at Sea Gate, battled desperately with Detective-Sergeant Armstrong, of the Central Office, this afternoon, throwing the passengers of a south-bound Columbus avenue surface car into a panic at Seventy-second street. According to alienists and the allegations of his wife Dillon is insane. He had jumped on the car after escaping from the custody of a physician when about to be examined by an alienist.

He became violent and attacked his wife.

hung on to second place and beat Lonehand a neck for the place.

Samson Takes Stake Easily.

Samson made all the running in the Juvenile Stakes and won easily by a length and a half from Albert F., who raced head and head with Kuroki to the stretch, where the latter quit. Flinnap was third three lengths away.

Rubric by Four Lengths.

Bobbie Kean beat the gate in the fifth and made the running, followed by Rubric and Moxmar. They held this order until, near the far turn, where Rubric went to the front, and coming away won easily by four lengths from Moxmar.

The "St. Louis Limited" leaving New York at 1:20 P. M. via Pennsylvania Railroad, arrived at St. Louis on time, 4:30 P. M., 24 days out of 305.

Yoric Breezed Home.

Yoric went to the front soon after the start of the sixth, made all the running and won breeding by five lengths from Somnus, the heavily backed favorite. Clements was third, three lengths away. Yoric is another Westerner. Last time out he could not raise a raceable colt.

Mintberia Wins Seventh.

Belcast made the running in the last race, followed by Al Powell to the stretch, where the latter took the lead. In the run home Mintberia went to the front and won by a half a length from Umbrella, who beat Flowaway four lengths for the place.

(Special to The Evening World.) EXPOSITION PARK, PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 24.—By superior work on the bases Pittsburg defeated New York for the third time to-day. The score was 4 to 3.

The Giants made a hard uphill fight and it began to look encouraging in the ninth when Shannan led off with a single. He was out stealing second, however, and the chance was gone.

The only exciting feature of the contest was the fist fight between McGinnity and Peitz. On complaint of the Mayor, McGinnity was taken to the police station, but later released on bail. For some reason unknown to the New York players, the Giants jumped up as 10 to 8 favorites in the heavy betting on to-day's game. At the betting headquarters more than $10,000 was posted before noon. So intense has become the betting mania on baseball here that authorities are trying to stop it.

As New York came in on the field in the fourth inning, one of the most dramatic scenes ever witnessed on a ball field occurred. Catcher Peitz, who was standing near the plate, made a remark to McGinnity, who was the New York pitcher walked by in a flash. McGinnity's hat shot out and landed on Peitz's head, and the two men engaged in a rough and tumble fight in the presence of 10,000 persons.

Before serious damage was done Peitz rushed in and separated the two. McGinnity was immediately placed under arrest and led from the field by a policeman. Peitz, for some reason, was not arrested.

First Inning.

Brennahan lifted a weak fly to Leach. Brown struck out Shannan shot a bouncer. Leever and was retired. NO RUNS.

Leach started merrily for the Pirates by slugging a single over second. Beaumont advanced him with a sacrifice to Devlin. Clarke popped out to Gilbert. Billy then took a line drive from Wagner. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Seymour started this one with a three-cushion shot against the center field fence. McGinnity popped out to Leach. In attempting to catch Seymour off third, O'Day's throw got past Leach. Nealon scored. Devlin fled to Ganley. Dahlen sent a high one to the same place. ONE RUN.

Nealon single to center. The infield, Ganley sneaked a bunt by the infield, and both runners were safe. Both runners were advanced on Ritchey's sacrifice. By throwing his bat against the ball Gibson drove a single into right, scoring Nealon and Ganley. On a bad throw Gibson tried to make third but was thrown out by Brennahan. Leever struck out. TWO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Ganley went back to the fence and got Gilbert's drive. McGinnity popped out to Ritchey and Brennahan struck out. NO RUNS.

Leach again led off with a single and took second on Beaumont's sacrifice to Devlin. Clarke popped out to Dahlen and Devlin touched Leach out after stopping Wagner's grounder. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Ritchey tossed out Brown. Shannan went the same way. Leever then got Seymour. NO RUNS.

Nealon single to center. Ganley followed with a safe hit. Both advanced on Ritchey's sacrifice. On the squeeze play Gibson dropped the ball in front of the plate. Nealon scored and Gibson was safe at first. Leever rolled out to Gilbert. Nealon scored. Leach popped out to Dahlen. TWO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

McGinnity fled to Ganley. Nealon single to center, but was forced at second on Dahlen's grounder to Wagner. Dahlen popped a foul to Gibson. NO RUNS.

Ame took McGinnity's place in the box. Beaumont fouled out to Brennahan. Clarke was thrown out by Gilbert. Wagner walked. Wagner stole.

(Special to The Evening World.) AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK, NEW YORK, July 24.—"Now, boys, get out and trim them again to-day," was the first remark of Clark Griffith to his players as they walked out on the diamond to take up the game with Detroit in the third game of their series.

About 2,500 fans were in the grounds when the ball game.

The Highlanders and Detroit will play two games to-morrow.

First Inning.

Jones began by passing a bouncer to Morlarity, who retired him. Schaefer, in so laced to right center for two bases. Crawford swung three times and went to the bench. McInyre drew a gift from Newton. Conroy drove a fast grounder to Conroy, who forced McInyre at second. NO RUNS.

Conroy died to Jones. Keeler sent a skycraper to Crawford. Chase singled and stole second by a slide. Williams walked. Chase and Williams made a 2-3 double steal. Morlarity fanned out. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

TOOK POISON BY MISTAKE.

(Special to The Evening World.) NEW BIRNSWICK, N. J., July 24.—Mrs. Laura Vanderveer, thirty years old, of Baritan avenue, Highland Park, died early to-day from the effects of a dose of carbolic acid taken by mistake for a tonic she used for insomnia.

It was only by a miracle that nobody was killed. The bomb was filled with gun-cotton, according to the police, and it went off with a roar that could be heard a dozen blocks away. It struck the sidewalk in front of J. Sullivan's saloon, and the hand-book man had passed by scarcely a second before and was just turning the corner into Fifty-ninth street.

The theory is a hand-book man refused to pay a bet several days ago. The better vowed vengeance at this time. The theory is that he waited in a window over the saloon and hurled the bomb when he saw the gambler-hand-bookmaker to-day. His aim was bad, but he endangered the lives of scores of persons.

It was not for more than an hour that the police hit upon this latest clue, and an arrest is predicted to-night. Prior to that time they were puzzled as to the place from which the bomb came.

The elevated railroad station is over the edge of the sidewalk at that point and there were only three men on the platform at the time. They denied all knowledge of it as did the four lodgers in the rooms over the saloon.

They Saw the Bomb.

The only persons who saw the bomb before it struck the ground were John Murphy and Thomas Carroll of Morris Park avenue and Union Park road, the Bronx. They were walking near the saloon "box" when they saw a glimpse of a black object flying through the air. The next instant there was a flash of fire with a thunderous roar that seemed to shake the entire street. Both men were knocked to the sidewalk and for fully three minutes a great cloud of white smoke veiled about them.

The busy corner of Third avenue and Fifty-ninth street was, as usual, thronged with hurrying crowds, and it was by the merest chance that Murphy and Carroll happened to be the only persons for the moment in front of the saloon. They were hurrying through the street at the time, and the explosion threw the crowd into a panic. While some of the men ran toward the pillar of smoke, woman and children dashed wildly away.

Bloomingdale's department store on the opposite corner was filled with shoppers, and they hurried out into the street. All sorts of rumors spread. The surging, frightened crowds of men and women put a stop to all traffic, as they formed a wide circle about the spot where the smoke was gradually drifting away.

Picked Up the Injured.

Policemen Brennan and Colgan, of the Traffic Squad, with difficulty forced their way to the scene. They found Murphy and Carroll lying on the ground, and they tried to get them up. Murphy, who was lying on his back, still clung to the shock. Carroll's right leg was severely injured. He was taken to the hospital, but he refused to allow the police to call an ambulance.

The police could not tell from what direction the bomb had come. One of the policemen went to the elevated station and 15 other up into the rooms over the saloon. On the station platform were three men, besides the two who were injured. They declared they had seen no bomb.

Detectives of the East Sixty-seventh street station are now at work on the case. They have nothing at all in the way of a clue. They only see no reason for a sane person to throw a bomb upon the corner where hundreds of persons passed every hour. That anybody had a grudge against the saloon-keeper and wished to wreck his place is discarded. They said they had seen a man, since it landed about ten feet from Murphy and several other men in the crowd who were familiar with explosives produced it gun-cotton. There was not a trace of the material of the bomb, all of it having been destroyed.
